

Schroader, Kathy

From: Orjiako, Oliver
Sent: Tuesday, August 25, 2015 2:01 PM
To: Schroader, Kathy
Subject: FW: Clark County SEIS

Hello Kathy:

FYI. Please, need to index for the record. Thanks.

From: Euler, Gordon
Sent: Tuesday, July 28, 2015 3:31 PM
To: Alvarez, Jose; Pearrow, Ken; Cook, Christine
Cc: Orjiako, Oliver
Subject: FW: Clark County SEIS

All:

Sharese at ESA received this email from another ESA planner (located in California). She thought we'd be interested in it.

Gordy

From: Sharese Graham [<mailto:SGraham@esassoc.com>]
Sent: Tuesday, July 28, 2015 1:37 PM
To: Euler, Gordon
Subject: FW: Clark County SEIS

FYI...

From: Margaret Clancy
Sent: Monday, July 27, 2015 4:35 PM
To: Sharese Graham
Cc: Eric Ruby
Subject: FW: Clark County SEIS

Hi Sharese, Please see the email below that was forwarded to Eric. Please follow up as appropriate. Thanks.

Margaret

From: Eric Ruby
Sent: Monday, July 27, 2015 3:50 PM
To: Margaret Clancy
Subject: FW: Clark County SEIS

FYI...

From: susan rasmussen [<mailto:sprazz@outlook.com>]
Sent: Monday, July 27, 2015 3:10 PM

To: Eric Ruby
Cc: cnldental@yahoo.com
Subject: Clark County SEIS

Hello,

Carol Levanon and myself had a lengthy conversation last August in Camas, Washington at the county's second open house regarding the work on the comprehensive plan with Ikuno Masterson.

Our conversation centered around prime soils and the designation of all county resource lands in 1994. The GIS Metadata shows that the resource lands were designated via aerial photos and county staff. We could find no record of the county using the 1972 NRCS County Soil Manual when designating the resource lands for the first county comprehensive plan in 1994, or subsequent updates.

We are interested in knowing if ESA did any follow up work on this subject and will anything be written concerning the methodology used to designate the resource lands?

Is Ikuno also writing the draft eis for the additional plan, alternative 4?

Thank you for your attention,

Susan Rasmussen
Clark County Citizens United, Inc.

Sent from Windows Mail