

Schroader, Kathy

From: Orjiako, Oliver
Sent: Thursday, August 27, 2015 8:29 AM
To: Euler, Gordon; Alvarez, Jose
Cc: Schroader, Kathy
Subject: FW: Clark County Health Department Video

Follow Up Flag: Follow up
Flag Status: Flagged

FYI. Kathy, please index. Thanks.

Oliver

From: Carol Levanen [mailto:cnldental@yahoo.com]
Sent: Thursday, August 27, 2015 12:25 AM
To: Madore, David; Stewart, Jeanne; Mielke, Tom; Orjiako, Oliver; McCauley, Mark
Subject: Clark County Health Department Video

Dear Councilors,

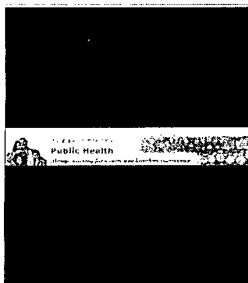

I was shocked to see the videos that are presented on the Clark County Health Department web page, that claim high density is the answer to healthy living. That couldn't be further from the truth. Do you condone these videos? Where is the scientific data that backs them up? What is the definition of "sprawl"? Who made these videos, in the first place. Did the Councilors see these videos, before they were put in the webpage?

I don't remember seeing accurate statistics that citizens in our county want to walk or ride a bike to where they are going. I don't believe you will force them to do so, either, just because you force them to live in a high density area. Where is the scientific data that backs up the video statement that cul-de-sacs are destroying our earth. These videos are outrageous and untrue. Does the county really have to stoop to such a low level?

I hope not. Please remove these videos from the website, as soon as possible. I don't want my tax dollars paying for such trash. Thank You.

Sincerely, Carol Levanen, Ex. Secretary, CCCU, Inc.

Growing Healthier - Healthy communities - Public Health - Clark County Washington

Growing Healthier - Healthy communities - Public Health ...

Video: Public Health's proposal for planning communities to improve health. Video: Built to last Your zip code may be more important to your health than your gene...

View on www.clark.wa.gov

Preview by Yahoo