Mark:

You don't need to do anything with this. The DSEIS is out, and it clearly mentions on page FS-2 all the folks who prepared the document. Thanks.

Gordy

I was just filtering through some emails that went to Ikuno's old address and found this. Is there anything you would like us to do with this request?

Hello Ikuno,

Would you please be so kind as to let me know who was responsible for writing the draft eis for Clark County's alternative 4 plan? We are interested in who prepared the draft statement, and who supplied the data that the draft eis is based on.

Thank you,
Susan Rasmussen

Hi Susan –

You, Carol and I had that conversation about resource lands at the Supplemental EIS Scoping Meeting in Camas back in August. We are making progress on development of the Draft SEIS.

Eric Ruby forwarded your inquiry about the "metadata that was used in the composition of the original land use maps for the first EIS". As consultants for the County, we are not legally able to provide you with information directly. All communication must go through the County. I have copied Gordy Euler, the County's project manager for the 2016 Comprehensive Plan Update, so that you can continue your inquiry with him.

Hi Susan: I will find out who the ESA person is that you are referring to and have her contact you.

Carol Levanon and myself met a member of your staff during a scoping open house hosted by Clark County in Camas, Wa. She was writing the SEIS for the county's comp plan update. We had a long conversation regarding the designation of the resource lands, the NRCS soils manual, and the metadata for the county's landuse map. We still cannot locate the metadata that was used in the composition of the original landuse maps for the first EIS. Would you kindly pass this on to her? I'm so sorry, but we have lost her business card and can't recall her name. She was present at the Vancouver Library open house, and Camas one.

Thank you,
